The annual 29th Finance Forum is taking place, giving postgraduate students and mentors an opportunity to expand their horizon.

We are pleased to announce that the University of Santiago de Compostela in Spain will hold the 29th Finance Forum on the 7th and 8th July 2022. For 18 years, BME has participated in this initiative, which aims to promote and disseminate financial research at the highest level.

The Finance Forum of the Spanish Finance Association (AEFIN) aims to serve as a meeting point for all those who are actively interested in finance research, whether they work in a higher education institution, a company or any other public or private organisation. The aim of these meetings is to promote communication and discussion on research and finance relations.

A call for papers for the Finance Forum and PhD Mentoring Day is open until the 28th February 2022. At the Finance Forum, BME-SIX will award applied research in finance with the best papers in the categories of equities, fixed income and derivatives.

As part of the Finance Forum, a PhD Mentoring Day will be held on 6 July, the day before the conference, where PhD students will present their research and receive feedback from leading experts in their field, some of whom are from the BME. The mentoring day provides an opportunity to gain knowledge and interact with peers and experts. This is an opportunity for postgraduate students to network.

Students typically submit academic papers on the following topics: asset pricing, corporate finance, banking, market microstructure, risk analysis and financial stability, institutional investors, international finance, derivatives and portfolio management. However, they are not bound by these topics.

If you are interested in participating, find the information in this link: Paper submission (Conference Maker). The submission will be followed by acceptance of papers, which will be communicated by 7 April.
