OTHER RELEVANT INFORMATION

On Saturday, the Spanish Government published the Royal Decree-Law 10/2022 which aims to limit the impact of gas prices on electricity prices. Our assessment of the Royal Decree-Law is that, thanks to Holaluz's hedging strategy, the measures should not have any significant impact on our business and do not alter the gross margin and EBITDA forecasted for 2022 communicated during our Investor's Day on Friday 29th April 2022.

Also, whilst we continue to deplore the terrible situation in Ukraine, the war (and developments of the last few weeks) continues (thanks to our hedging strategy) to have a very limited impact on our gross margin and we reiterate the guidance given on 24th February 2022 (i.e., our gross margin for 2022 is secured through our hedging strategy and we have very limited exposure to price variations).
